Translating Across Genres: Practices & Challenges (TAG-PC)

29 – 30 January 2026

Amity School of Languages

Amity University Rajasthan, Jaipur, India

Conference Overview: With globalization and digital media, the demand for specialized translation has grown exponentially. This conference addresses the need for tailored approaches to ensure accuracy, cultural relevance, and functional effectiveness across genres. The International Conference on Translation Studies with the theme, Translating Across the Genres, invites scholars, researchers, practitioners, and students to explore the latest developments, challenges, and innovations in the field of translation and interpreting in the era of digitalisation. This interdisciplinary conference aims to foster discussions on theoretical, practical, and technological advancements in translation, bridging academia and industry. This international conference celebrates the diversity of translation across all genres and specializations, from literary and technical translation to multimedia localization and AI-driven solutions. The International Conference on Translating across Genres: Practices & Challenges is a great platform that promises to bring together scholars, translators, linguists, and industry professionals to discuss the complexities of translating different genres—such as literary, technical, legal, medical, audiovisual, and digital texts. We invite translators, researchers, educators, and industry professionals to share insights, challenges, and innovations that define the multifaceted world of translation today.
